"In the summer, about the 20th June, 1836, Col. A. Burr came to Port Richmond Hotel, (Staten Island.) where he took board, near which I then resided, as also did the relative and friend of Col. Burr, Judge Ogden Edwards. The colonel (Burr) being a valetude-narian, to feeble health, Judge Edwards soficited me, as often as I conveniently could, to visit him and administer the consolations of religion to him, which he said, was desired by Col. Burr and would be agreeable to him.

Accordingly from that time until the 13th September, 1836, the day on which he died at the said Port Richmond House, I visited h m as a minister of the Gospel once or twi e a week. At these consecutive interviews I was uniformly received and entert ined by him with his accustomed politeness and urbanity of manner. The time spent with him at each adapted to his declining health, his feeble state of body, and his advanced age, c n-inded by prayer to Almighty God for the exercise of his prayer to Almighty God for the exercise of his great mercy, the influence of his holy spirit thems, tea setts, castors, &c. and divine blessing; in all which he appeared to take an interest and be pleased, and particularly would thank me for my prayers I offered up in his behalf, for my kind offices, and the interest I took in his spiritual welfare, say-had enjoyed, of his bosored and pious ancestry, viz: his father, a minister of the gospel and President of the College at Princeton, N. J., and his mother a descendant of the learned and celebrated divine, Jonathan Edwards, and that doubtless many prayers had gone up to heaven from the hearts of his parents for his well-being and happiness, it seemed to affect him; and when I asked him as to his views of the holy Scriptures, he responded "they were the most perfect system of truth the world ever saw." So that, judging from his own declarthe ation and his behavior to me as his spiritual farmer in Dallas county. For terms, &c., apply P. O., or to the undersigned at the store of Gold Hons. adviser, he was not an atheist dor a deist. I to did not administer the Holy Sacrament to him nor did he suggest and request me to do it.

In regard to other topics, in the course of repeated conversations, he remarked that he was near Gen. Montgomery when he fell at Society are held at its Hall, on the 3d Thurs-Quebec; and that, notwithstanding that disas- day in each month, at early candle light. ter, if the army had pushed on they would have succeeded. At my last interview with him, about 12 o'clock at noon, the day he departed this life, me, tranquil in mind, and not disturbed by bodily your time with us is short. He replied, "I am entirely out from the Trinity bottom, aware of it." It was near 1 o'clock P. M., and his mind and memory seemed perfect. EDW. C. BROWDER ing the assurance of his salvation, he felt coy (cautious, as the word denotes) to express himself in full confidence.

With his usual cordial concurrence and manifest desire we kneeled in prayer before the throre of heavenly grace, imploring God's mercy and blessing. He turned in his bed and put himself in an humble devotional posture, and seemed deeply engaged in the religious service, thanking me, as usual, for the prayer made for him. His first funeral service was performed by me in the Port Richmond House, where he died. Thence we took his remains to the C apel of Princeton College, N.
